COBURNS BEGIN 3 PLAYS AT NORMAL

PRESENT "THE YELLOW JACKET" IN AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

IS A CHINESE DRAMA OF NATIVE COSTUMES

College Theatrical Company Gives a Comedy Tomorrow Afternoon—A Shakespearean Work at Night.

The players and stage settings and scenery for the three plays to be presented by the Coburn Players in the Normal auditorium tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night, arrived this morning and the scenery is being arranged for the portrayal of "The Yellow Jacket" tonight. It begins at 8 o'clock.

On account of prevailing weather conditions, the plays will be presented in the Normal auditorium instead of on the lawn in front of the Normal building as was planned. They also were held in the auditorium last year on account of rains.

"The Yellow Jacket" has its settings in China and is unique and strangely enacted though pleasing to any audience. Especially fine scenery is promised for the presentation of the play while each person acting in it has had much experience along that line.

Import Costumes For Play.

The costumes are wonderful old embroideries imported from China and worn by generations of Chinese actors.

"The Yellow Jacket" is a story of a young man who, shortly after his birth, is deprived of his parents, is fostered by an honest farmer and his wife, finally falls in love with Plum Blossom and cannot marry her until he discovers who his ancestors were.

Upon reaching the age of 20 he decides to go out and find out who were his ancestors. The search takes him through adventures, trials and troubles not unlike those that are befalling young men in any other country today.

The love of his mother, Chee Moo, which is constantly with him, and the love of little Plum Blossom, whose slipper he carries, added to his own integrity, bravery and love of honor, truthfulness and family, bring him through all these vicissitudes, cause him to find his ancestors and take him back to the girl of his heart.

A Comedy Tomorrow Afternoon.

"The Imaginary Sick Man" will be presented at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with Mollere, comedian, in the leading role.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," by Shakespeare, will be the final presentation tomorrow night.

Last year "As You Like It," "The Merchant of Venice" and "The Taming of the Shrew" were presented.

CLASS TO CONDUCT SERVICE.

Series of Special Midweek Services at Christian Church Prove Attractive.

The midweek prayer meeting Wednesday night at the First Christian church will be in charge of the class of young men taught by A. S. Robey. For several weeks the Wednesday night service has been conducted by one of the church organizations and the meetings have been unusually interesting. A special program will be given Wednesday night in conjunction with the usual prayer service.

Harkness, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who is a member of the commission, went to St. Joseph this morning to attend the session.

Both young men are in their senior college year, the former at Oberlin college, Oberlin, O., and the latter in the theological department at New Concord, O. Mr. Farmer will have charge of the churches at Walkup Grove and Mr. Neff will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church at Akron.

Other business at the meeting today will include plans for the fall meeting of the presbytery, which is to be held at Hopkins.

BURLINGTON 4; BARNARD 2

Junction Team Again Wins in Fast Game Before Large Crowd—Got 3 in First.

The Burlington Junction base ball team won from Barnard 4 to 2 on its home diamond yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 250. This is the second victory for the Junction, it having previously nosed out the Barnardites 3 to 2 in ten innings. A number of fans of Maryville witnessed the game.

Burlington got three of its scores in the first inning, when its players hit Thompson, pitcher for Barnard, hard because of his not having had time to "warm up" before the game. Barnard also got one run the initial inning. After that the game settled down to a close, fast one. The score:

Burlington Jct. 20000010-4 7 3
Barnard 100010000-2 6 6
Batteries—Hollis and Hagey; Thompson and Strader.

HAD HEAVY RAIN TO SOUTH.

Passing Cloud Gave Up 3 Inches Saturday Night Near Maryville, Reported.

It is estimated that between 3 and 3½ inches of rain fell Saturday night a short distance south of Maryville, while at the same time none fell here. The rain came from a large dark cloud which was observed floating to the south of the city early in the night.

WHIRLWINDS WIN PENNANT.

Boy Base Ball Team Defeated Last Game by Robey Nine 12-8 Saturday, Though.

The "Whirlwinds," a base ball team composed of boys of Maryville have won the pennant in a schedule of three games played this season, even though they were defeated by the team captained by Russell Robey by a score of 12 to 8 Saturday afternoon. The Whirlwinds are captained by Vilas Awalt.

The Whirlwinds won the first game 11 to 5 and the second 27 to 6. The batteries in Saturday's game for the Whirlwinds were Edward Awalt and Vilas Awalt. For the Robey team it was Paul Robey and Chester S. Kimas.

Called by Illness of Niece.

Miss Lottie Kidd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kidd, living near Bedison, was called to Whitesville Saturday by the illness of her niece, Elizabeth Breedlove, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Breedlove, formerly of this city.

FEDS BEAT IOWANS

CLARINDA LED UNTIL SIXTH, THEN LOST 4 TO 3.

MANY ERR; MAR GAME

Loose Fielding on Both Sides Throughout Contest—Opposing Pitcher Plays Out.

The Maryville Federals won from the Clarinda, Ia., team at Federal park yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 4, after the Iowans had led for five innings. The swat fest on the part of the local diamond artists came in the sixth inning, after they had gotten "next" to Galloway, pitching for Clarinda, who had also begun to weaken. But the game was not a tight, clean-played one on either side. There were many errors and several "bonehead plays," else Maryville would have won a shut-out game. When Galloway gave out in the sixth inning it was easy picking for the locals, and the Clarinda line-up was being constantly changed until every utility man had been used. Ham, pitching for the Federals, was wild, but he held out for the full nine innings, as always, and had plenty of steam when the final inning ended.

Clarinda Led First Half.

Clarinda got two scores in the third inning and the final two in the fourth. The Federals pulled in the first run in the second inning, when Ernst went to first on a miss by the Clarinda catcher after he had struck out. He went to second on an overthrow, stole third and came home when the first baseman missed a thrown ball, in an effort to put out Bailey, next up.

Maryville got goose eggs in the third, fourth and fifth innings, but began to clean up in the sixth. Ham started the ball rolling with a visit to the first sack on a walk, took second on a single by Carmichael, got to the triple bag on a wild pitch and came home when the first baseman made another error. Carmichael followed up his single with a run to second on the wild pitch, went to third and then home on the first sacker's muff of a thrown ball.

Scott closed the scoring that inning with a safety on first through an error by the first baseman, stole second and came home on a single by Wiles, who died.

Got 4 Runs in Seventh.

They continued the scoring in the seventh, when four men went around the diamond. Bailey started it by getting on first on an error, to second on a wild throw by the second baseman, third on a baby bump by Morris, and came home on an error.

Ham again got a run by taking first on an error, stealing second, going to third on an error, and home on a single by Tilson.

Carmichael also got another run to his credit by taking first on an error, stole second, took third on Tilson's single, and came home on a play between third and home when he was struck by a ball thrown from catcher to third baseman.

Made Nifty Triple Play.

Tilson followed by getting on with his single, stealing second and third and coming home on a single by Keeler.

A nifty triple play was made once by the locals, when Scott fielded a hit ball, nabbed a runner at third, threw to second, where a man was nabbed, when the ball was thrown to first, throwing out the batter. One was already out, however.

Ernst got the lone run in the eighth inning with a single to center field, stealing second, to third on an error, and home in a steal, when the catcher threw to second, putting out Morris, running. The score:

Clarinda 00220000-4 11 7
Federals 00000341-9 8 3
Batteries—Galloway, Towne and T. Clark and O. Clark, Calfee and Moritz; Ham and D. Carmichael.

HUERTA ARRESTED

SAY FORMER MEXICAN DICTATOR AND OROZCO PLOT REVOLUTION.

FREE ON $15,000 BOND

American Soldiers Detain Past President of Republic at El Paso—Hearing Set for July 1.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, was taken into custody by the United States authorities here. He was released on $15,000 bond. Pascual Orozco, detained with him, was released on $7,500 bond.

Charges of conspiracy to incite a revolution against a friendly country were filed against the accused men by special agents of the department of justice.

Formal charges were filed against Huerta and Orozco on instruction from the United States district attorney at San Antonio.

They were taken before George Oliver, United States commissioner, and their bond approved and their hearing fixed for Thursday, July 1. Surety was furnished by Ike and Frank A'cerete, Max Moye and Rudolph Cruz.

Clifford Beckham and S. L. Pinney, representing the government, argued that the bond of each defendant be fixed at $25,000. Thomas Lea, mayor of El Paso and attorney for the defendants, offered bond of $15,000 for Huerta and half that amount for Orozco and the Mexican leaders personally pledged themselves to appear at the hearing.

Huerta and Orozco were released at once from the brigade headquarters at Fort Bliss, where they had been detained since noon. General Huerta was driven to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Luis Fuentes. Orozco was taken to the home of friends.

The release of the Mexican leaders caused nearly as great a stir in Mexican and American circles as did the news of their detention. Immediately there was a revival of rumors relative to the new revolutionary movement, although Huerta reiterated his statement that he did not intend to attempt to enter Mexican until peace is restored. The general stated that he is here merely to visit his daughter a few days and greet old friends in El Paso.

"I am on my way to Los Angeles and San Francisco," said the general, "to visit the Pacific coast and see the Panama-Pacific exposition."

JERRY GALLION DEAD.

Former Resident of This City Drops Dead Saturday at Brookfield.

Mrs. O. P. Wade of this city and her granddaughter, Virginia Wade, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wade of Brookfield, left this morning for Brookfield to attend the funeral of Jerry Gallion, who dropped dead Saturday.

Mr. Gallion was a former resident of this city, leaving here about five years ago for Brookfield. He was employed as a shoemaker while living here. He is survived by his wife and one daughter. The daughter is Mrs. H. B. Wade of Brookfield.

The funeral services were held at the Brookfield today under the auspices of the Woodmen lodge, of which Mr. Gallion was an organizer.

Miss Crouch Leaves.

Miss Chloe Crouch of Humphrey, Mo., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. John Bantz, left this morning for her home.

LOSES EYE IN BALL GAME

John Ashbrook, Umpire, Struck in Only "Good" Eye in "Warning Up" Process.

John Ashbrook of Skidmore, already blind in the left eye, will perhaps lose the sight in the right eye, as a result of being struck by a thrown base ball prior to a game there yesterday afternoon. The sphere was being thrown about the diamond during the "warning up" process, when it struck Ashbrook.

Ashbrook was brought here by Dr. J. H. Pierpoint of Skidmore for treatment by Dr. F. R. Anthony. The ball ruptured the eye ball, causing the fluid therein to be discharged. Although an effort is being made to retain the sight, it is not believed such will be possible. Ashbrook is barely able to see any with his left eye.

STATE LABOR IS ORGANIZED

Maryville Has More Union Women Workers, Statistics Show, on Account of Garment Factory.

Facts and figures dealing with organized labor in Maryville, Marcelline, Lexington, Novinger, Keota, Monett, Brookfield, Trenton, Chaffee, Desoto, Bonne Terre, Columbia, Eldon, Fort-Well, Milan, Mokana, Nevada, Poplar Bluffs, Rich Hill, Slater, Stanberry, Thayer, Flat River, Higbee, Minden Mines, and Kirksville, covering the fiscal year 1914-15, which constitutes advance information from the 1915 Red Book, is given publicly today by Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick. Each of the towns mentioned has three or more unions, the aggregated membership for each being in excess of 100. The information imparted is based on reports made in January, 1915. Nearly every report indicated an increase in membership. Unions made up of railroad men and coal and metal miners predominate in these towns.

The wages of these organized workers are from 20 to 50 per cent higher than those of toilers following similar callings in other Missouri towns where no labor unions exist. The law fixes the hours of miners and smelter workers at eight, and therefore those following that occupation cannot toil longer in the course of each twenty-four hours, but the organization has considerably reduced the hours of the others from ten and twelve to eight and nine hours daily.

Brookfield reported ten unions with 516 members, nine of whom were women. A year ago eleven unions reported 551 members, nine of whom were women. The decrease, thirty-five, is attributed to the shutting down of a coal mine. Trenton reported eleven unions with 588 members. A year ago the same number of branches had 537 members, one of whom was a woman. The increase is fifty-one, due to an extension of coal mining. As no women members reported for 1914-15, the supposition is she married some resident of that city, supposedly a union man.

Stanberry reported eight unions with 193 members. The gain is fifty-five over 1913-14, when five unions reported 133 members. Maryville has more organized women toilers than any of the other cities considered in this bulletin. Here is found fifty-one employees and a large number of female wage earners. Five unions reported for 1914-15 forty-nine male members and fifty-six female, a total of 105. A year ago three unions reported eighty-eight members, sixty-six of whom were women. The gain, when the total is considered, being seventeen. There was a loss of ten women toilers, perhaps due to matrimony.

STOP DEFECTS IN CITY PAVING ACTS

PREPARE "WATER TIGHT" RESOLUTIONS AND GRADE ORDINANCES

COUNCIL CONSIDERS NEW BILLS TOMORROW

Aldermen Will Be Shown Specific Drafts With All Legal Flaws Eliminated—May Get Lower Bid.

When the council passes grade ordinances and adopts resolutions for paving nineteen blocks on six different streets of Maryville in a special meeting tomorrow night there will be no doubt anywhere as to the legality of the acts, if present plans of City Attorney W. H. Crawford and City Engineer F. L. Flynt prove correct. For the argument that the previous ones were not specific enough is amply rectified in the ones being prepared today.

Though it means a long delay in finally insuring the paving for the city and more cost to the city, the legal flaws and faults have been eliminated with the intention of making every act of the city "water tight." The property owner also will know by the resolutions just what this proposed paving will do to him—whether it will mar or better the appearance of his place from the street.

Believe Owners Favor Paving.

There is a chance that remonstrances will be made to these new resolutions by property owners that will eliminate some proposed improvements, but that chance is slight. Those that favored the paving the other time will do so this time, it is believed, especially since all possible leaks have been stopped, and there will be no chance of illegal contentions being made by either contractor or property owner.

It also is believed by some that lower bids will be received the next time than was received recently, when only one contractor bid. That was for $1.60 per square yard for either asphalt or tar surface. It is said Chilli-cothe received a bid of $1.27 this last spring for paving with tar or "Tarvia X," as the brand adopted is known.

No resolutions for new paving will be considered tomorrow night, although some may be prepared later, it is said. Little other business is scheduled to come up tomorrow night.

BOOST "FOURTH" CELEBRATIONS.

Maitland W. O. W. Band and Clearmont Advertise for Entertainment July 3.

The Woodmen of the World band of seventeen pieces of Maitland and a delegation of one car load of boosters of Clearmont appeared in Maryville this afternoon to boost "Fourth of July" celebrations to be held in each of the towns next Saturday, July 3. Each flooded the business section of town with handbills, advertising the celebrations.

The Maitland boosters are touring part of this and Andrew county today in three automobiles. They had visited Graham, Fillmore, Rosendale, Bolckow and Barnard before coming here, then left for Skidmore, last stop today. The band was headed by J. H. Walker, captain; W. E. Hodgins, president, and E. B. Stout, secretary. Two of the members are boys 13 years old.

The Maitland boosters promise many races and track meets, besides a ball game between Maitland and Barnard, a band concert and concession entertainments Saturday.

Clearmont has arranged for speaking, band concerts, fireworks, races of various kinds and a base ball game between Clearmont and Clarinda, Ia., for that day.

TO MAKE POTATO ALCOHOL.
Well Known All Through Europe—Rumors of Use by Germany in Lieu of Gasoline.

The potato is a prolific producer of alcohol when treated with the intent to develop and to take from it that spirit. Potato whisky is well known in Ireland and Russia, and potato alcohol is known all through Europe. There have been published recently certain communications from Europe which have given it out that Germany has overcome her shortage of gasoline by the use of alcohol for producing force in internal combustion engines. It is estimated that from one ton of average white potatoes twenty-five gallons of pure alcohol may be obtained.

A number of years ago there was published a description of the processes through which potatoes were put in order to produce alcohol. In the first place, the potatoes were washed by machinery. Then they were steamed and pulped and driven through a strainer into the mash tub, where they were mixed with a small percentage of malt. The result of this, which was the wort, was then passed into fermenting vats. The mash would be left to ferment for thirty hours, and would then be conveyed to the still. On issuing from the condenser the spirit would pass through a domed glass case in which is a cup. In this cup, into which the spirit flows and from which it overflows, float a thermometer and hydrometer to indicate the strength of the passing spirit. From the cup the spirit flows into a meter, and from that register of quantity it passes on to the receiver or container, in which it is sent on its way as an article of trade.—Washington Star.

WAR SUMMARY

Without pause the Austro-Germans are continuing their efforts to sweep the Russians out of Galicia. The French still are hammering at the Germans in the Arras region and on the heights of the Meuse.

The Germans have launched another attack against Warsaw, moving from the north through Przasnysz, which is not far from the East Prussian frontier, down toward the Polish capital, over that section embraced by the Omulew and Orz river.

According to unofficial reports, the Turkish ambassador at Rome has asked for his passports from the Italian foreign office, although no declaration of war has passed between Italy and Turkey.

Galicia still remains the scene of the most important military operations. The stubborn resistance which for several days has been offered by the Russian forces to the southeast of Lemberg, after their retreat from the Galician capital, has finally been overcome after a protracted and violent engagement. The Teutonic forces have penetrated the Russians' main position in this sector, according to Vienna, and throw the Russians back.

The supplementary British naval estimate provides for the addition of 50,000 officers and men to the navy. This would bring the total personnel for this year to 300,000 officers and men. The late vote of 250,000 men was made in February.

The report recently in some quarters that Italy had sent a fleet of war ships to join the Anglo-French fleet in the Dardanelles was semi-officially denied in Rome. The statement says that the report "at least is premature."

German Socialists are again active in the cause of peace according to dispatches from Germany, and the prominent paper, Vorwarts, has been suspended indefinitely for publishing their peace appeal.

One year ago today the Austrian archduke, Francis Ferdinand, and his wife were shot and killed in the little Bosnian town of Sarajevo by Garvic Princip.

It was the act of Princip, a poor student, which ultimately resulted in ten nations going to war. These nations are, on one hand, Great Britain, France, Russia, Serbia, Japan, Belgium, Italy and Montenegro, and, on the other, Germany, Austria and Turkey. The war to date has caused a loss to the various belligerents of more than 6,000,000 men, dead, wounded and prisoners, and more than 500 ships. Of these 120 were war vessels.

The outstanding results on land are: The greater portion of Belgium is under the control of Germany. Germany has been driven from the far east.

A part of the Dardanelles is in the possession of the allied troops. Portions of France and Russia are in the possession of German troops.

A strip of Alsace has been taken from Germany.

On the continent of Africa parts of territorial possessions have been lost by both sides.

Various island possessions of Germany have been taken by the forces of the allies.

Italian troops are in possession of a strip of Austrian territory.

The outstanding results at sea are these: German and Austrian mercantile shipping has been driven from all the open seas.

German and Austrian war vessels having a total displacement of 257,000 tons have been destroyed.

War vessels of the allied nations having a total displacement of 182,000 tons have been sent to the bottom.

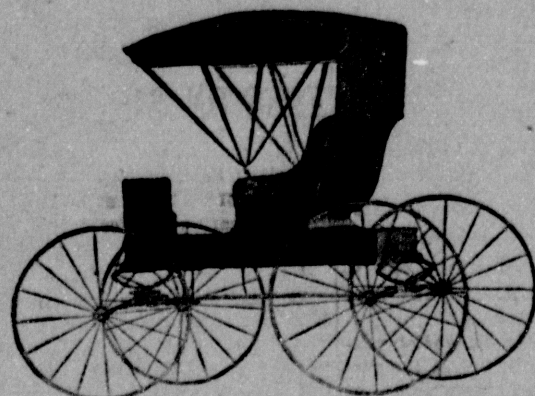

Except for communication through Holland and the Scandinavian nations, Germany is cut off from the rest of the world.

Efforts on the part of the Germans to place the British Isles in a similar predicament has resulted in the sinking by submarines of hundreds of vessels flying the flags of the allied and neutral nations.

The sinking in this manner of the Cunard liner Lusitania, with the loss of more than 100 American lives, precipitated a request upon the part of the United States that such practices insofar as they might menace American interests be stopped.

Bryan Denies He Hinted Note Shift

Washington, June 28.—An interesting episode in the negotiations between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania came to light over the issuance of a statement by former Secretary of State Bryan denying published reports that after the first American note had been sent to Berlin he gave Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, the impression that the grave and insistent tone of the communication was not to be taken seriously.

Expert Advice to Automobile Owners.

In a gasoline engine, is any more power obtained from the explosion by having the spark plug directly in front of the piston rather than at one side in a boss or recess?

There are two theories relative to the location of the spark plug in a recess within the cylinder. One is that by having the spark plug in such a recess a spurt of flame enters the combustion space from the recess and as a result quickly ignites the charge. Another theory is that by having the spark plug directly in the center of the combustion, or, that is, so that the spark plug points project outward into the combustion space itself, the gas is quickly exploded because it gives the flame a chance to propagate itself in all directions. Practice favors a plug which merely has its points projecting into the combustion space.

SQUASH PEST MAY BE HERE.

Detection, Prevention and Methods of
Combating Vine Borer Explained.

Comparatively few farmers or gardeners have grown squashes or pumpkins without at times finding their potential crop prospects greatly reduced by the squash-vine borer. Often it is difficult to tell just what troubles the vine, as when the small larvae first enter the stems of the plant their presence is not apparent.

However, they can later be located by the coarse, yellowish excrement which they force from their burrows in the stems and which accumulates on the ground beneath. The squash-vine borer, however, is not long active before the leaves suddenly wilt and die down.

The presence of the larvae in the stems causes rot to develop at the affected points and the vine soon becomes severed from its root. From one to a half dozen or more larvae may inhabit a stem, and often upward of 40 have been taken from a single plant.

The vines of squash and pumpkin form the chief diet of this insect, but occasionally it attacks also the gourd, muskmelon, and cucumber. However, it does not infest melons and cucumbers when the preferred crops are available.

The feeding of the larvae is not restricted to any particular part of the plants, but they bore through the stems from the roots to the base of the leaves and through the leaf stalks. The young larvae may even be found in the larger veins of the leaves or in the fruits themselves. The greatest injury is often worked to the Hubbard squash, the Marrow cymings, and other late varieties. The devastations of the borer are likely to be more acutely felt in small gardens than in large market plantings.

Frequently the farmer or gardener loses a part or all of his crop year after year. This is particularly true where the same ground is planted in successive years to pumpkins, squashes or other crops which the borers infest.

The squash-vine borer is exceptionally difficult to control, as ordinary insecticides are of no value after the insect has once entered the vines, and repellents are also practically useless.

Are You Deaf or Hard of Hearing?

Now is the ideal time to treat deafness. Ninety per cent of all deafness is caused by catarrh. Dr. Edwards of St. Louis has discovered and perfected an operation for catarrhal deafness which is remarkable for its many cures. There is no cutting and it is painless. I am now using this operation in Maryville with remarkable success. Every patient treated by me has been cured or greatly benefited.

MARKET YOUR BROILERS NOW.

Separate Chickens For Sale and Feed
Liberal—Best Breeds Explained.

Now is the time to get broilers ready for market in order to get the highest prices says the U. S. department of agriculture. Broilers are young chickens weighing from three-fourths to 2 pounds, the latter weight being the most common size. The production of broilers as a special business has been tried without success on many poultry farms in the northeastern part of this country.

Broilers, however, are raised successfully and at a good profit both on poultry farms and also where only a few fowls are kept, the broilers being the cockerels which are a by-product in the raising of pullets for egg production.

The general-purpose breeds of fowls, such as the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, and Orpingtons, produce chickens making the best broilers. These chickens should weigh from 2 to 2½ pounds (live weight) at 11 to 13 weeks of age.

The Leghorns are not so well adapted for broilers, as their chickens are smaller, but they make fair broilers, weighing from 1 to 2 pounds. All Leghorn cockerels, except those saved for breeding stock, should be sold as broilers, as they are not well adapted for market after passing beyond this size.

White chickens make the most attractive and easily dressed broilers, as their pin feathers are not so apparent when the chickens are prepared for market. Chickens of the general-purpose breeds make good market poultry after they pass the broiler size, but many of these, especially those hatched early, are marketed to best advantage as broilers, both on account of the high price paid for broilers, and because by selling the cockerels at this age the pullets are usually given a better chance to develop.

The cockerels should be separated from the pullets as soon as the sex can be readily distinguished, the most promising chickens being saved for the breeding stock. The sex is usually told by the development of the head points, tail and general male characteristics in the cockerels, and this requires some skill and practice.

The chickens selected as broilers may be forced more rapidly than those saved for breeding stock. Quick growth can be produced by dividing them into flocks of 50 or less and confining them to small pens for 14 to 18 days before they are marketed.

Feed in the morning and at noon a wet mash of 6 pounds corn meal, 4 pounds low-grade wheat flour, and 2 pounds bran or middlings, mixed with skim milk or buttermilk to the consistency of oatmeal porridge.

If no milk is available, add 1 pound of beef scrap to the mash, and give some green feed daily, using only enough water to make a crumbly mash. In addition to either of these mash feeds, give all the cracked corn which the chickens will eat, for the evening feed.

Higher prices are paid for the early broilers.

YAQUIS STRIP 300 OF THEIR CLOTHING

Indians Leave Every Person in Mining Town Naked.

Guaymas, Mex., June 28.—Advices received here by messenger from the interior state that 200 Yaqui Indians raided the mining town of Sanze, 100 miles inland from Guaymas, assembled 300 inhabitants and stripped everyone naked, then, while a detail guarded them, others looted the town, packing up everything transportable on a pack train.

When the raiders departed they took with them four young girls. No casualties are reported.

Tobari Bay, Mex., June 28.—Americans in the Yaqui valley are well armed with rifles and are ready to repel any future Indian attacks, according to advices received here. Some of the Americans have arranged to hire other foreigners to assist in their defense.

The valleys of the Yaqui and Mayo rivers are reported quiet. Rains have begun and are expected to cause a rapid rise in the Yaqui river. This will prevent movement of the Indians to the Mayo river, southward, where an American settlement is located. The mouth of the Yaqui river was forty miles wide during the December floods.

Latest advices from La Paz, Lower California, stated that that town and vicinity had been cleared in favor of Carranza. It previously was declared "neutral." Guaymas has refused to receive or clear La Paz shipping.

RATE CASE SUBMITTED

Argument Finished in Western Railway Rate Raising Hearing.

Washington, June 28.—Argument was concluded before the interstate commerce commission in the western advance rate case after a five-day discussion by attorneys for interested railroads and shippers touching the reasonableness of the proposed advances in western territory.

The case was submitted to the commission. Its importance was said to be the basis for the belief here that it will be decided during the summer.

The financial condition of the carriers and their need of increased revenue was reviewed by both sides. Clifford Thorne of the Iowa state commission made the principal argument for the shippers and state railway commissions opposed to the increases and R. B. Scott of the Burlington and Mr. Wright spoke for the railroads.

Mr. Thorne declared the carriers had failed to show the need of increased revenue and that many of the roads concerned are making far more than 4 per cent on their investment.

GERMANS FORCE WAY ACROSS THE DNIESTER

Berlin, June 28.—German troops, after fierce fighting, have crossed the Dniester river between Bukasowice and Chodorow, in Galicia, and have taken by storm the hills on the northern bank, according to an official statement issued by the German army headquarters staff.

"In France," the statement says, "French artillery stationed near the cathedral of Arras was bombarded by German batteries. In the Argonne, a portion of a French trench was stormed by the Germans."

The Russian forces, which for several days made a determined stand at positions to the east of Lemberg, were again in retreat along the entire front in that region, according to an official statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian general staff. Fighting on the upper Dniester river, the statement says, continues.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

STATE HAS HAD 8 CAPITOLS

St. Louis and St. Charles Housed Missouri's Early Government—
New One Year Off.

Missouri already has occupied eight buildings as a state capitol, and soon will occupy the ninth, the corner stone of which was laid June 24, says the Kansas City Star.

All of but two of the buildings so far occupied have been makeshifts. Two capitol have burned.

The first building utilized as a state capitol was the Mansion House in St. Louis at Third and Vine streets. That was in June, 1820. The first legislature convened in September of the same year, but the capitol was moved in the meantime to the Missouri hotel, Main and Morgan streets, St. Louis. At this session the vote for governor was cast and Alexander McNair declared elected. This legislature also elected Thomas Benton and David Barton as United States senators. An act also was passed establishing the state capitol at St. Charles until October, 1826.

The next year the legislature convened at St. Charles in a hotel since destroyed. In December, 1821, this legislature passed an act to locate the permanent seat of government "on the south bank of the Missouri river, within forty miles of the mouth of the Osage river, which empties into the Missouri river eight miles below Jefferson City."

Finally the present capitol was selected, and the legislature appropriated $35,000 for the capitol building, which was to be a 2-story brick structure. Living quarters for the governor and his family were to be included in the building, which was located where the governor's mansion now stands. It was completed in 1835.

This, the first real capitol, was used until 1837, when it was burned with all its contents. The seat of government then was moved into the Cole county courthouse. There the ninth general assembly convened in 1837 and appropriated $75,000 for a new capitol, which was built on what since has been known as Capitol Hill, near the site of the present temporary building.

The second capitol proper was large enough until 1837, when the legislature appropriated 1/2 million dollars for two wings, which were built of Warrensburg stone. At that time there was fierce rivalry between Jefferson City and Sedalia over the state capitol—a contest which lasted more than twenty years. In 1839, a proposition to remove the capitol to Sedalia was submitted to a vote of the people and defeated.

The dome of the capitol was struck by lightning February 5, 1911, and the building burned. It probably was worth 1 million dollars. Most of the contents of value were saved.

The seat of government was moved into the old supreme court building. The senate secured quarters in the new supreme court building and the house in the schoolroom of St. Peter's church. A bill was passed authorizing the construction of a temporary capitol, and in August, 1911, a constitutional amendment providing an issue of bonds to the extent of 3 1/2 million dollars for the construction and furnishing of a new capitol was adopted by more than a two-thirds vote.

In January, 1912, the state government was moved into the temporary capitol, now in use, which will be occupied until about July 1, 1916, when the state government will move into its new home.

The new capitol probably will cost nearly 3 1/2 million dollars and the furnishings will cost 1/2 a million dollars. The building covers three acres of ground and will have three full stories and a basement and sub-basement. The exterior will be of Burlington limestone, and to the casual observer, it will appear like an immense marble palace. The interior will be finished in marble and granite. It will be fireproof.

FIGHT ON INCOME TAX LAW

Papers Filed in Suit Attacking Constitutionality of Measure.

Washington, June 28.—Papers were filed here in the first attack in the supreme court on the constitutionality of the federal income tax, which promises to be the most important case before the court next term. Counsel for John F. and Horace E. Dodge of Detroit filed a brief of argument attacking the surtax on income of individuals.

Three main reasons were assigned for claiming the surtax provision of the law is invalid. Stockholders in corporations. It is asserted, when compiling their surtaxes are subjected to liability for the gains and profits of the corporations which have not been divided or distributed.

It is charged also that the provision vests in the secretary of the treasury an arbitrary power of determining without a hearing whether any corporation has accumulated a greater undivided surplus than is reasonable for the needs of the business.

A third reason is that the provision permits corporations to accumulate and withhold from surtax taxation such part of their profits as may be reasonably necessary for the needs and purposes of the business and does not accord such business privileges to individuals and partnerships. It is urged that corporations are thus favored by a "most invidious discrimination."

ZIONISTS MEET IN BOSTON

Palestine Possibly Given to the Jews When Peace is Made.

Boston, June 28.—Several thousand representatives of Zionist organizations of the country attended the opening session of a conference regarded as the most important ever held by American Zionists.

According to leaders of the movement, Zionism in Europe has been seriously affected by the war, and, as Jews there are unable to bear their portion of the Zionist work, added responsibility for the success of the movement devolves upon American Zionists. It is contended that at the end of the war there will be keen competition for Palestine and that the logical disposition would be to assign it to the Jews.

L. Brandeis, president of the allied conventions, outlined the purpose of the Zionist movement, pointing out that it was not intended to compel Jews to move back to Palestine, but was designed to give them more freedom. This freedom, he said, was expected to give Jews rights now enjoyed by other peoples and the privilege of living at their option in the lands of their fathers or in some other country.

ANIMATED CARTOONS IN MOVING PICTURES

Interesting Description of Tedious Process—Thousands of Drawings Required for One Film—Latest Idea in World of Motion Photography Explained, in Interview, by Originator J. R. Bray

Mention the name "Colonel Heeza Liar" to almost anyone and you'll see his or her face light up and a smile spread all over it. Who doesn't know the funny little Colonel—who hasn't laughed at his antics as he hunted wild beasts in Central Africa, outwitted cannibals on the River of Doubt, cultivated his farm with the aid of some strange assistants, and hunted ghosts in Castle Clare? The Colonel's friends are legion—probably no films made have as large a following young and old alike as these, and speculation has been wide as to how these pictures are made—what gives the drawings those life-like motions, and who is the genius who creates them.

J. R. Bray is the originator and creator of these drawings, and he was the first to put motion into the drawing itself. That there is no royal road to success is again proven by the fact that Mr. Bray started his experiments over seven years ago, and that was when motion pictures were still very ized to fit the situation. This value of the illustration was recognized in everything but motion pictures, and now there too it has found its place. It is well to remember that an artist can draw that which is a physical impossibility for an actor to enact before a camera. The artist's possibilities are unlimited. The opportunity for real humor may be seen when one reflects that the humorous is almost invariably the unusual.

"Very few artists have the ability to make drawings that move. An extraordinary imagination is absolutely essential, as is also a perfect knowledge of the science of motion. Problems come to the artist in this work that never arise in ordinary art. I have employed some very able artists to assist me in this work, and find that very few of them can get the knack. For instance, one of the hardest things in the world to handle in these animated drawings is perspective. To have a figure come from the far horizon straight toward the observer—to have it grow from a dot to the proper size and preserve the 'balance'—makes an almost insurmountable problem. I think I am correct in saying that not one artist in a thousand can put motion into drawings."

Few people would have the patience to do Mr. Bray's work. It takes between four and five thousand drawings to make 1,000 feet of one reel of film in addition to the colossal toil of the art work it takes a week to photograph the drawings one at a time. Great speed united with unvarying accuracy is essential. Every stroke of the pen must count. Mr. Bray works so fast that he is able to keep four trained artists "inking in" the outline drawings which he makes. The necessity for accuracy is evident when it is learned that the drawings are magnified on the screen at least 25 times.

Mr. Bray spent years in study before he attempted to make an animated cartoon film. For months he haunted the Bronx Zoo in order to study the animals there and analyze their motions. He even bought a large farm young. Years of careful, arduous work were necessary before the results satisfied him. Today he is the head of an organization devoted to making his pictures, has a corps of artists working under his supervision and has patents on his process which cover the use of transparent material or across the Hudson from Poughkeepsie and stocked it with various animals in order to further extend his knowledge of animal anatomy. The result of these studies finds expression in the life-like motions of the various animals which move across his films.

He was born in Detroit, Michigan, and has lived in New York since 1901. He was for seven years a newspaper material made transparent by any agency whatever in the making of animated drawings.

Mr. Bray was found in his sunny New York studio engaged in conducting Heeza Liar through another series of escapes. Tall, slender and blond, he looks more like a successful business man than an artist. Mr. Bray readily consented to talk about his work.

"The public," he said, "demands drawn illustrations which reveal the personality of the artist. The newspapers and magazines all prove that. It is easily seen that to illustrate fiction, for instance, a photograph rarely can be well used. The artist's drawing, on the other hand, can be ideal-artist, being also a steady contributor to the humorous weeklies, such as "Life," "Puck," and "Judge." He took his ideas to Pathe Freres over three years ago, since he felt that such a house, with its many foreign branches, could give him a larger international circulation than any other. The Pathe officials at once saw the value of his work, and from that day to this he has dealt only with Pathe. Millions of persons have laughed and are laughing at the "Heeza Liar" and "Police Dog" series, and his political cartoons in the Pathe News, the motion picture weekly, have attracted widespread newspaper comment. Mr. Bray has truly originated a new school of art.

Expert Advice to Automobile Owners.

Is it common practice to regrind the cylinders when a motor is worn or is it better to get new pistons and rings?

All depends upon the condition of these parts. Sometimes it is advisable to regrind the cylinders, which is the case when they are worn oval. In this case the fitting of new pistons is a difficult job, and the previous troubles would return again. If the cylinders retain their circularity, then new pistons and rings may be fitted.

Is it a good plan to place graphite in the crank case with the regular oil?

Graphite shows excellent results when used as a lubricant for the motor. Its action is one of a filler, the minute holes in the cylinder being filled in with the graphite, thus reducing friction and wear. Some owners use ordinary kake graphite, while others prefer the deflocculated form.

There is a swishing sound issuing from the neighborhood of the right front wheel of my car when it is in motion. It seems to occur once every revolution. What can be causing it?

There are two very likely causes of such a noise. It may be due to the speedometer gears meshing too tightly or the demountable rim has a wedge loose. Jack up the wheel and rotate it slowly, and you can soon determine whether the gears are too close. If this is the case loosen up the arm that carries the driven gear and move the gear only far enough away so that the noise is eliminated. If the trouble is not found in the speedometer gears tighten up the wedges on the rim. One loose wedge will make a noise similar to that you have described, due to the lack of support at this point.

What, in your opinion, is the best way to crank a motor, with the throttle open or nearly closed?

It is preferable to crank the motor with the throttle only opened a small amount, say an inch or an inch and a quarter movement on the quadrant. With some carburetors it is impossible to start the motor with the throttle wide open, while with others it is generally done with difficulty.

I have always been bothered with motor knocking when the throttle was opened on a hard pull, necessitating my retarding the spark to the extreme limit, and that, of course, reduced power. I have been told that it was caused by too high compression. Will it help matters to reduce compression by raising the cylinder and placing a plate beneath to make a larger compression space?

The high compression reason which has been assigned to your case is very possibly correct, although it might be that carbon trouble is at the bottom of the difficulty. If you have noticed that the knocking continues even after the motor has been cleaned of carbon it is probably due to the high compression or to a loose connecting rod, wrist pin or crank shaft bearing or part. It is never a good idea to reduce compression until you are sure that it is too high, and it will be better to have this measured by gauge and see what it really is before attempting to cut it down by means of a plate. A compression pressure of seventy pounds is sufficient, and for ordinary purposes you should not have higher than this. If it is below this a reduction of compression will reduce the power correspondingly, as it influences the mean effective pressure in the cylinder.

If a motor is equipped with a high tension magneto, does each cylinder receive alternately one effective spark and one surplus spark?

The ordinary four cylinder high tension magneto only produces sparks when required—that is, at the beginning of the working stroke. Such a magneto produces a spark every half revolution of the armature, and therefore by connecting it to the motor so that it revolves at the same speed just the right number of sparks are generated, since a four cylinder, four cycle motor requires a spark every half revolution. These sparks are distributed to the proper cylinders in turn by means of a rotating brush which makes consecutive contact with the four segments which are connected to the high tension wires running to each of the four cylinders. The distributor runs at half the speed of the armature, and the two are positively connected by gears. The two are so set that the brush is in contact with one of the segments when the breaker points separate and the spark occurs.

COBURNS BEGIN 3 PLAYS AT NORMAL

PRESENT "THE YELLOW JACKET" IN AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

IS A CHINESE DRAMA OF NATIVE COSTUMES

College Theatrical Company Gives a Comedy Tomorrow Afternoon—A Shakespearean Work at Night.

The players and stage settings and scenery for the three plays to be presented by the Coburn Players in the Normal auditorium tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night, arrived this morning and the scenery is being arranged for the portrayal of "The Yellow Jacket" tonight. It begins at 8 o'clock.

On account of prevailing weather conditions, the plays will be presented in the Normal auditorium instead of on the lawn in front of the Normal building as was planned. They also were held in the auditorium last year on account of rains.

"The Yellow Jacket" has its settings in China and is a unique and strangely enacted though pleasing to any audience. Especially fine scenery is promised for the presentation of the play while each person acting in it has had much experience along that line.

Import Costumes For Play.
The costumes are wonderful old embroideries imported from China and worn by generations of Chinese actors.

"The Yellow Jacket" is a story of a young man who, shortly after his birth, is deprived of his parents, is fostered by an honest farmer and his wife, finally falls in love with Plum Blossom and cannot marry her until he discovers who his ancestors were.

Upon reaching the age of 20 he decides to go out and find out who were his ancestors. The search takes him through adventures, trials and troubles not unlike those that are befalling young men in any other country today.

The love of his mother, Chee Moo, which is constantly with him, and the love of little Plum Blossom, whose slipper he carries, added to his own integrity, bravery and love of honor, truthfulness and family, bring him through all these vicissitudes, cause him to find his ancestors and take him back to the girl of his heart.

A Comedy Tomorrow Afternoon.
"The Imaginary Sick Man" will be presented at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with Molliere, comedian, in the leading role.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," by Shakespeare, will be the final presentation tomorrow night.

Last year "As You Like It," "The Merchant of Venice" and "The Taming of the Shrew" were presented.

BURLINGTON 4; BARNARD 2

Junction Team Again Wins in Fast Game Before Large Crowd—Got 3 in First.

The Burlington Junction base ball team won from Barnard 4 to 2 on its home diamond yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 250. This is the second victory for the Junction, it having previously won the Barnardites 3 to 2 in ten innings. A number of fans of Maryville witnessed the game.

Burlington got three of its scores in the first inning, when its players hit Thompson, pitcher for Barnard, hard because of his not having had time to "warm up" before the game. Barnard also got one run the initial inning. After that the game settled down to a close, fast one. The score:

The Whirlwinds won the first game 11 to 5 and the second 27 to 6. The batteries in Saturday's game for the Whirlwinds were Edward Awalt and Vilas Awalt. For the Robey team it was Paul Robey and Chester S. Kimes.

FEDS BEAT IOWANS

CLARINDA LED UNTIL SIXTH, THEN LOST 4 TO 3.

MANY ERR; MAR GAME

Loose Fielding on Both Sides Throughout Contest—Opposing Pitcher Plays Out.

The Maryville Federals won from the Clarinda, Ia., team at Federal park yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 4, after the Iowans had led for five innings. The swat fest on the part of the local diamond artists came in the sixth inning, after they had gotten "next" to Galloway, pitching for Clarinda, who had also begun to weaken.

But the game was not a tight, clean-played one on either side. There were many errors and several "bonehead plays," else Maryville would have won a shut-out game. When Galloway came out in the sixth inning it was easy picking for the locals, and the Clarinda line-up was being constantly changed until every utility man had been used.

Ham, pitching for the Federals, was wild, but he held out for the full nine innings, as always, and had plenty of steam when the final inning ended.

Clarinda Led First Half.

Clarinda got two scores in the third inning and the final two in the fourth. The Federals pulled in the first run in the second inning, when Ernst went to first on a miss by the Clarinda catcher after he had struck out. He went to second on an overthrow, stole third and came home when the first baseman missed a thrown ball, in an effort to put out Bailey, next up.

Maryville got goose eggs in the third, fourth and fifth innings, but began to clean up in the sixth. Ham started the ball rolling with a visit to the first sack on a walk, took second on a single by Carmichael, got to the triple bag on a wild pitch and came home when the first baseman made another error.

Carmichael followed up his single with a run to second on the wild pitch, went to third and then home on the first sack's muff of a thrown ball.

Scott closed the scoring that inning with a safety on first through an error by the first baseman, stole second and came home on a single by Wiles, who died.

Got 4 Runs in Seventh.

They continued the scoring in the seventh, when four men went around the diamond. Bailey started it by getting on first on an error, to second on a wild throw by the second baseman, third on a baby bunt by Morris, and came home on an error.

Ham again got a run by taking first on an error, stealing second, going to third on an error, and home on a single by Tilson.

Carmichael also got another run to his credit by taking first on an error, stole second, took third on Tilson's single, and came home on a play between third and home when he was struck by a ball thrown from catcher to third baseman.

Made Nifty Triple Play.

Tilson followed by getting on with his single, stealing second and third and coming home on a single by Keeler.

A nifty triple play was made once by the locals, when Scott fielded a hit ball, nabbed a runner at third, threw to second, where a man was nabbed, when the ball was thrown to first, throwing out the batter. One was already out, however.

Ernst got the lone run in the eighth inning with a single to center field, stealing second, to third on an error, and home in a steal, when the catcher threw to second, putting out Morris, running. The score:

R.H.E. Clarinda 00220000-4 11 7
Federals 01000341-9 8 3
Batteries—Galloway, Towne and T. Clark and O. Clark, Calfee and Moritz; Ham and D. Carmichael.

HUERTA ARRESTED

SAY FORMER MEXICAN DICTATOR AND OROZCO PLOT REVOLUTION.

FREE ON $15,000 BOND

American Soldiers Detain Past President of Republic at El Paso—Hearing Set for July 1.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, was taken into custody by the United States authorities here. He was released on $15,000 bond, Pascual Orozco, detained with him, was released on $7,500 bond.

Charges of conspiracy to incite a revolution against a friendly country were filed against the accused men by special agents of the department of justice.

Formal charges were filed against Huerta and Orozco on instruction from the United States district attorney at San Antonio.

They were taken before George Oliver, United States commissioner, and their bond approved and their hearing fixed for Thursday, July 1. Surety was furnished by Ike and Frank A. Cereto, Max Moye and Rudolph Cruz.

Clifford Berkham and S. L. Pinkney, representing the government, argued that the bond of each defendant be fixed at $25,000. Thomas Lee, mayor of El Paso and attorney for the defendants, offered bond of $15,000 for Huerta and half that amount for Orozco and the Mexican leaders personally pledged themselves to appear at the hearing.

Huerta and Orozco were released at once from the brigade headquarters at Fort Bliss, where they had been detained since noon. General Huerta was driven to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Luis Fuentes. Orozco was taken to the home of friends.

The release of the Mexican leaders caused nearly as great a stir in Mexican and American circles as did the news of their detention. Immediately there was a revival of rumors relative to the new revolutionary movement, although Huerta reiterated his statement that he did not intend to attempt to enter Mexico until peace is restored. The general stated that he is here merely to visit his daughter a few days and greet old friends in El Paso.

"I am on my way to Los Angeles and San Francisco," said the general, "to visit the Pacific coast and see the Panama-Pacific exposition."

JERRY GALLION DEAD.

Former Resident of This City Drops Dead Saturday at Brookfield.

Mrs. O. P. Wade of this city and her granddaughter, Virginia Wade, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wade of Brookfield, left this morning for Brookfield to attend the funeral of Jerry Gallion, who dropped dead Saturday.

Mr. Gallion was a former resident of this city, leaving here about five years ago for Brookfield. He was employed as a shoemaker while living here. He is survived by his wife and one daughter. The daughter is Mrs. H. B. Wade of Brookfield.

The funeral services were held at Brookfield today under the auspices of the Woodmen lodge, of which Mr. Gallion was an organizer.

Miss Crouch Leaves.

Miss Chloe Crouch of Humphrey, Mo., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. John Bantz, left this morning for her home.

LOSES EYE IN BALL GAME

John Ashbrook, Umpire, Struck in Only "Good" Eye in "Warning Up" Process.

John Ashbrook of Skidmore, already blind in the left eye, will perhaps lose the sight in the right eye, as a result of being struck by a thrown base ball prior to a game there yesterday afternoon. The sphere was being thrown about the diamond during the "warning up" process, when it struck Ashbrook.

Ashbrook was brought here by Dr. J. H. Pierpoint of Skidmore for treatment by Dr. F. R. Anthony. The ball ruptured the eye ball, causing the field therein to be discharged. Although an effort is being made to retain the sight, it is not believed such will be possible. Ashbrook is barely able to see any with his left eye.

STATE LABOR IS ORGANIZED

Maryville Has More Union Women Workers, Statistics Show, on Account of Garment Factory.

Facts and figures dealing with organized labor in Maryville, Marceline, Lexington, Novinger, Keota, Monett, Brookfield, Trenton, Chaffee, Desoto, Bonne Terre, Columbia, Eldon, Fortnelt, Milan, Mokane, Nevada, Poplar Bluffs, Rich Hill, Slater, Stanberry, Thayer, Flat River, Higbee, Minden Mines, and Kirksville, covering the fiscal year 1914-15, which constitutes advance information from the 1915 Red Book, is given publicly today by Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick. Each of the towns mentioned has three or more unions, the aggregated membership for each being in excess of 100. The information imparted is based on reports made in January, 1915. Nearly every report indicated an increase in membership. Unions made up of railroad men and coal and metal miners predominate in these towns.

The wages of these organized workers are from 20 to 50 per cent higher than those of toilers following similar callings in other Missouri towns where no labor unions exist. The law fixes the hours of miners and smelter workers at eight, and therefore those following that occupation cannot toil longer in the course of each twenty-four hours, but the organization has considerably reduced the hours of the others from ten and twelve to eight and nine hours daily.

Brookfield reported ten unions with 516 members, nine of whom were women. A year ago eleven unions reported 551 members, nine of whom were women. The decrease thirty-five, is attributed to the shutting down of a coal mine. Trenton reported eleven unions with 588 members. A year ago the same number of branches had 537 members, one of whom was a woman. The increase is fifty-one, due to an extension of coal mining. As no women members reported for 1914-15, the supposition is she married some resident of that city, supposedly a union man.

Stanberry reported eight unions with 193 members. The gain is fifty-five over 1913-14, when five unions reported 138 members.

Maryville has more organized women toilers than any of the other cities considered in this bulletin. Here is found fifty-one employees and a large number of female wage earners. Five unions reported for 1914-15 forty-nine male members and fifty-six female, a total of 105. A year ago three unions reported eighty-eight members, sixty-six of whom were women. The gain, when the total is considered, being seventeen. There was a loss of ten women toilers, perhaps due to matrimony.

STOP DEFECTS IN CITY PAVING ACTS

PREPARE "WATER TIGHT" RESOLUTIONS AND GRADE ORDINANCES

COUNCIL CONSIDERS NEW BILLS TOMORROW

Aldermen Will Be Shown Specific Drafts With All Legal Flaws Eliminated—May Get Lower Bid.

When the council passes grade ordinances and adopts resolutions for paving nineteen blocks on six different streets of Maryville in a special meeting tomorrow night there will be no doubt anywhere as to the legality of the acts, if present plans of City Attorney W. H. Crawford and City Engineer F. L. Flynt prove correct. For the argument that the previous ones were not specific enough is amply refuted in the ones being prepared today.

Though it means a long delay in finally insuring the paving for the city and more cost to the city, the legal flaws and faults have been eliminated with the intention of making every act of the city "water tight." The property owner also will know by the resolutions just what this proposed paving will do to him—whether it will mar or better the appearance of his place from the street.

Believe Owners Favor Paving.

There is a chance that remonstrances will be made to these new resolutions by property owners that will eliminate some proposed improvements, but that chance is slight. Those that favored the paving the other time will do so this time. It is believed, especially since all possible leaks have been stopped, and there will be no chance of illegal contentions being made by either contractor or property owner.

It also is believed by some that lower bids will be received the next time than was received recently, when only one contractor bid. That was for $160 per square yard for either asphalt or tar surface. It is said Chilli-cothe received a bid of $127 this last spring for paving with tar or "Tarmac X," as the brand adopted is known.

No resolutions for new paving will be considered tomorrow night, although some may be prepared later, it is said. Little other business is scheduled to come up tomorrow night.

BOOST "FOURTH" CELEBRATIONS.

Maitland W. O. W. Band and Clearmont Advertise for Entertainments July 3.

The Woodmen of the World band of seventeen pieces of Maitland and a delegation of one car load of boosters of Clearmont appeared in Maryville this afternoon to boost "Fourth of July" celebrations to be held in each of the towns next Saturday, July 3. Each flooded the business section of town with handbills, advertising the celebrations.

The Maitland boosters are touring part of this and Andrew county today in three automobiles. They had visited Graham, Fillmore, Rosendale, Bolckow and Barnard before coming here, then left for Skidmore, last stop today. The band was headed by J. H. Walker, captain; W. E. Hodgkin, president, and E. B. Stout, secretary. Two of the members are boys 13 years old.

The Maitland boosters promise many races and track meets, besides a ball game between Maitland and Barnard, a band concert and concession entertainments Saturday.

Clearmont has arranged for speaking, band concerts, fireworks, races of various kinds and a base ball game between Clearmont and Clarinda, Ia., for that day.

TO MAKE POTATO ALCOHOL.

Well Known All Through Europe—Rumors of Use by Germany in Lieu of Gasoline.

The potato is a prolific producer of alcohol when treated with the intent to develop and to take from it that spirit. Potato whisky is well known in Ireland and Russia, and potato alcohol is known all through Europe. There have been published recently certain communications from Europe which have given it out that Germany has overcome her shortage of gasoline by the use of alcohol for producing force in internal combustion engines. It is estimated that from one ton of average white potatoes twenty-five gallons of pure alcohol may be obtained.

A number of years ago there was published a description of the processes through which potatoes were put in order to produce alcohol. In the first place, the potatoes were washed by machinery. Then they were steamed and pulped and driven through a strainer into the mash tub, where they were mixed with a small percentage of malt. The result of this, which was the wort, was then passed into fermenting vats. The mash would be left to ferment for thirty hours, and would then be conveyed to the still. On issuing from the condenser the spirit would pass through a domed glass case in which is a cup. In this cup, into which the spirit flows and from which it overflows, float a thermometer and hydrometer to indicate the strength of the passing spirit. From the cup the spirit flows into a meter, and from that register of quantity it passes on to the receiver or container, in which it is sent on its way as an article of trade.—Washington Star.

WAR SUMMARY

Without pause the Austro-Germans are continuing their efforts to sweep the Russians out of Galicia. The French still are hammering at the Germans in the Arras region and on the heights of the Meuse.

The Germans have launched another attack against Warsaw, moving from the north through Przasnysz, which is not far from the East Prussian frontier, down toward the Polish capital, over that section embraced by the Omulew and Orz river.

According to unofficial reports, the Turkish ambassador at Rome has asked for his passports from the Italian foreign office, although no declaration of war has passed between Italy and Turkey.

Galicia still remains the scene of the most important military operations. The stubborn resistance which for several days has been offered by the Russian forces to the southeast of Lemberg, after their retreat from the Galician capital, has finally been overcome after a protracted and violent engagement. The Teutonic forces have penetrated the Russians' main position in this sector, according to Vienna, and throw the Russians back.

The supplementary British naval estimate provides for the addition of 50,000 officers and men to the navy. This would bring the total personnel for this year to 300,000 officers and men. The late vote of 250,000 men was made in February.

The report recently in some quarters that Italy had sent a fleet of war ships to join the Anglo-French fleet in the Dardanelles was semi-officially denied in Rome. The statement says that the report "at least is premature."

German Socialists are again active in the cause of peace according to dispatches from Germany, and the prominent paper, Vorwaerts, has been suspended indefinitely for publishing their peace appeal.

One year ago today the Austrian archduke, Francis Ferdinand, and his wife were shot and killed in the little Bosnian town of Sarajevo by Garvic Prinz.

It was the act of Prinz, a poor student, which ultimately resulted in ten nations going to war. These nations are, on one hand, Great Britain, France, Russia, Serbia, Japan, Belgium, Italy and Montenegro, and, on the other, Germany, Austria and Turkey. The war to date has caused a loss to the various belligerents of more than 6,000,000 men, dead, wounded and prisoners, and more than 500 ships. Of these 120 were war vessels. The outstanding results on land are: The greater portion of Belgium is under the control of Germany. Germany has been driven from the far east.

A part of the Dardanelles is in the possession of the allied troops.

Portions of France and Russia are in the possession of German troops.

A strip of Alsace has been taken from Germany.

On the continent of Africa parts of territorial possessions have been lost by both sides.

Various island possessions of Germany have been taken by the forces of the allies.

Italian troops are in possession of a strip of Austrian territory.

The outstanding results at sea are these: German and Austrian merchant shipping has been driven from all the open seas.

German and Austrian war vessels having a total displacement of 257,000 tons have been destroyed.

War vessels of the allied nations having a total displacement of 182,000 tons have been sent to the bottom.

Except for communication through Holland and the Scandinavian nations, Germany is cut off from the rest of the world.

Efforts on the part of the Germans to place the British Isles in a similar predicament has resulted in the sinking by submarines of hundreds of vessels flying the flags of the allied and neutral nations.

The sinking in this manner of the Cunard liner Lusitania, with the loss of more than 100 American lives, precipitated a request upon the part of the United States that such practices insofar as they might menace Americans be stopped.

Bryan Denies He Hinted Note Bluff.

Washington, June 28.—An interesting episode in the negotiations between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania came to light over the issuance of a statement by former Secretary of State Bryan denying published reports that after the first American note had been sent to Berlin he gave Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, the impression that the grave and insistent tone of the communication was not to be taken seriously.

Expert Advice to Automobile Owners. In a gasoline engine, is any more power obtained from the explosion by having the spark plug directly in front of the piston rather than at one side in a boss or recess?

There are two theories relative to the location of the spark plug in a recess within the cylinder. One is that by having the spark plug in such a recess a spurt of flame enters the combustion space from the recess and as a result quickly ignites the charge. Another theory is that by having the spark plug directly in the center of the combustion space itself, the gas is quickly exploded because it gives the flame a chance to propagate itself in all directions. Practice favors a plug which merely has its points projecting into the combustion space.

SQUASH PEST MAY BE HERE.

Detection, Prevention and Methods of
Combating Vine Borer Explained.

Comparatively few farmers or gardeners have grown squashes or pumpkins without at times finding their potential crop prospects greatly reduced by the squash-vine borer says the department of agriculture. Often it is difficult to tell just what troubles the vine, as when the small larvae first enter the stems of the plant their presence is not apparent.

However, they can later be located by the coarse, yellowish excrement which they force from their burrows in the stems and which accumulates on the ground beneath. The squash-vine borer, however, is not long active before the leaves suddenly wilt and die down.

The presence of the larvae in the stems causes rot to develop at the affected points and the vine soon becomes severed from its root. From one to a half dozen or more larvae may inhabit a stem, and often upward of 40 have been taken from a single plant.

The vines of squash and pumpkin form the chief diet of this insect, but occasionally it attacks also the gourd, muskmelon, and cucumber. However, it does not infest melons and cucumbers when the preferred crops are available.

The feeding of the larvae is not restricted to any particular part of the plants, but they bore through the stems from the roots to the base of the leaves and through the leaf stalks. The young larvae may even be found in the larger veins of the leaves or in the fruits themselves. The greatest injury is often worked to the Hubbard squash, the Marrow cymings, and other late varieties. The devastations of the borer are likely to be more acutely felt in small gardens than in large market plantings.

Frequently the farmer or gardener loses a part or all of his crop year after year. This is particularly true where the same ground is planted in successive years to pumpkins, squashes or other crops which the borers infest.

The squash-vine borer is exceptionally difficult to control, as ordinary insecticides are of no value after the insect has once entered the vines, and repellents are also practically useless.

MARKET YOUR BROILERS NOW.

Separate Chickens For Sale and Feed
Liberal—Best Breeds Explained.

Now is the time to get broilers ready for market in order to get the highest prices says the U. S. department of agriculture. Broilers are young chickens weighing from three-fourths to 2 pounds, the latter weight being the most common size. The production of broilers as a special business has been tried without success on many poultry farms in the northeastern part of this country.

Broilers, however, are raised successfully and at a good profit both on poultry farms and also where only a few fowls are kept, the broilers being the cockerels which are a by-product in the raising of pullets for egg production.

The general-purpose breeds of fowls, such as the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, and Orpingtons, produce chickens making the best broilers. These chickens should weigh from 2 to 2½ pounds (live weight) at 11 to 13 weeks of age.

The Leghorns are not so well adapted for broilers, as their chickens are smaller, but they make fair broilers, weighing from 1 to 2 pounds. All Leghorn cockerels, except those saved for breeding stock, should be sold as broilers, as they are not well adapted for market after passing beyond this size.

White chickens make the most attractive and easily dressed broilers, as their pin feathers are not so apparent when the chickens are prepared for market. Chickens of the general-purpose breeds make good market poultry after they pass the broiler size, but many of these, especially those hatched early, are marketed to best advantage.

as broilers, both on account of the high price paid for broilers, and because by selling the cockerels at this age the pullets are usually given a better chance to develop.

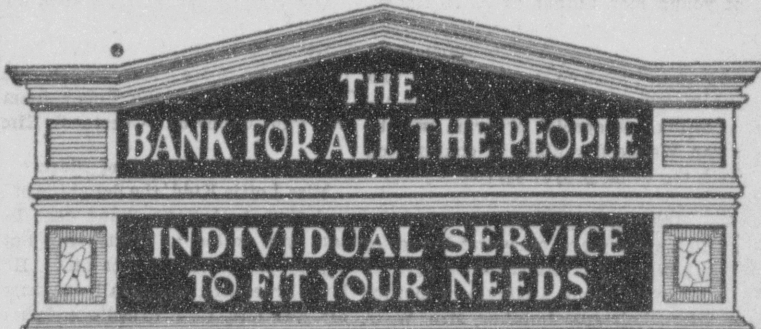

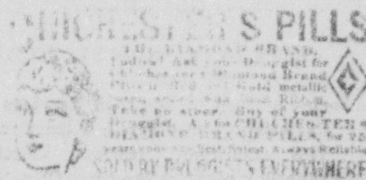

The cockerels should be separated from the pullets as soon as the sex can be readily distinguished, the most promising chickens being saved for the breeding stock. The sex is usually told by the development of the head points, tail and general male characteristics in the cockerels, and this requires some skill and practice.

The chickens selected as broilers may be forced more rapidly than those saved for breeding stock. Quick growth can be produced by dividing them into flocks of 50 or less and confining them to small pens for 14 to 18 days before they are marketed.

Feed in the morning and at noon a wet mash of 6 pounds corn meal, 4 pounds low-grade wheat flour, and 2 pounds bran or middlings, mixed with skim milk or buttermilk to the consistency of oatmeal porridge.

If no milk is available, add 1 pound of beef scrap to the mash, and give some green feed daily, using only enough water to make a crumbly mash. In addition to either of these mash feeds, give all the cracked corn which the chickens will eat, for the evening feed.

Higher prices are paid for the early broilers.

Indians Leave Every Person In Mining Town Naked.

Guaymas, Mex., June 28.—Advices received here by messenger from the interior state that 200 Yaqui Indians raided the mining town of Sanze, 100 miles inland from Guaymas assembled 300 inhabitants and stripped everyone naked, then, while a detail guarded them, others looted the town, packing up everything transportable on a pack train.

When the raiders departed they took with them four young girls. No casualties are reported.

Tobari Bay, Mex., June 28.—Americans in the Yaqui valley are well armed with rifles and an adequate supply of ammunition and are ready to repel any future Indian attacks, according to advices received here. Some of the Americans have arranged to hire other foreigners to assist in their defense.

The valleys of the Yaqui and Mayori rivers are reported quiet. Rainy have begun and are expected to cause a rapid rise in the Yaqui river. This will prevent movement of the Indians to the Mayori river, southward, where an American settlement is located. The mouth of the Yaqui river was forty miles wide during the December floods.

Latest advices from La Paz, Lower California stated that that town and vicinity had been cleared in favor of Caranza. It previously was declared "neutral." Guaymas has refused to receive or clear La Paz shipping.

RATE CASE SUBMITTED

Argument Finished In Western Railway Rate Raising Hearing.

Washington, June 28.—Argument was concluded before the interstate commerce commission in the western advance rate case after a five-day discussion by attorneys for interested railroads and shippers touching the reasonableness of the proposed advances in western territory.

The case was submitted to the commission. Its importance was said to be the basis for the belief here that it will be decided during the summer.

The financial condition of the carriers and their need of increased revenue was reviewed by both sides. Clifford Thorne of the Iowa state commission made the principal argument for the shippers and state railway commissions opposed to the increases and R. B. Scott of the Burlington and Mr. Wright spoke for the railroads.

Mr. Thorne declared the carriers had failed to show the need of increased revenue and that many of the roads concerned are making far more than 4 per cent on their investment.

GERMANS FORCE WAY ACROSS THE DNIESTER

Berlin, June 28.—German troops, after fierce fighting, have crossed the Dniester river between Bukasowice and Chodorow, in Galicia, and have taken by storm the hills on the northern bank, according to an official statement issued by the German army headquarters staff.

"In France," the statement says, "French artillery stationed near the cathedral of Arras was bombarded by German batteries. In the Argonne, a portion of a French trench was stormed by the Germans."

The Russian forces, which for several days made a determined stand at positions to the east of Lemberg, were again in retreat along the entire front in that region, according to an official statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian general staff. Fighting on the upper Dniester river, the statement says, continues.

Last year the Illinois highway commission built 76 miles of concrete road, 18 miles of brick road and 100 or more miles of macadam roads in Illinois. The Wisconsin highway commission built last year about 200 miles of hard roads; about 60 miles of concrete were laid in Milwaukee county alone.

Plans have been completed for what promises to be the largest gathering of good-roads advocates ever held. This meeting will be held at the Panama-Pacific International exposition and will be known as the Pan-American road congress. The tentative date selected is that of the week of September 6.

About 5,000 miles of state highways were completed in 1913 and about 6,000 miles in 1914, so that the last two years have been responsible for more than a third of the entire state highway mileage. The state highways in America now exceed by 6,000 miles the national road system of France.

According to the records of the good roads year book, more than $200,000,000 of state appropriations have been expended to January 1, 1915, and an approximate total of 31,000 miles of surfaced highways constructed under state supervision since the inauguration of the policy known as "state aid."

STATE HAS HAD 8 CAPITOLS

St. Louis and St. Charles Housed Missouri's Early Government—New One Year Off.

Missouri already has occupied eight buildings as a state capitol, and soon will occupy the ninth, the corner stone of which was laid June 24, says the Kansas City Star.

All of but two of the buildings so far occupied have been makeshifts. Two capitols have burned.

The first building utilized as a state capitol was the Mansion House in St. Louis at Third and Vine streets. That was in June, 1820. The first legislature convened in September of the same year, but the capitol was moved in the meantime to the Missouri hotel, Main and Morgan streets, St. Louis. At this session the vote for governor was cast and Alexander McNair declared elected. This legislature also elected Thomas Benton and David Barton as United States senators. An act also was passed establishing the state capitol at St. Charles until October, 1826.

The next year the legislature convened at St. Charles in a hotel since destroyed. In December, 1821, this legislature passed an act to locate the permanent seat of government "on the south bank of the Missouri river, within forty miles of the mouth of the Osage river, which empties into the Missouri river eight miles below Jefferson City.

Finally the present capitol was selected, and the legislature appropriated $25,000 for the capitol building, which was to be a 2-story brick structure. Living quarters for the governor and his family were to be included in the building, which was located where the governor's mansion now stands. It was completed in 1825.

This, the first real capitol, was used until 1837, when it was burned with all its contents. The seat of government then was moved into the Cole county courthouse. There the ninth general assembly convened in 1837 and appropriated $75,000 for a new capitol, which was built on what since has been known as Capitol Hill, near the site of the present temporary building.

The second capitol proper was large enough until 1887, when the legislature appropriated 1/4 million dollars for two wings, which were built of Warrensburg stone. At that time there was fierce rivalry between Jefferson City and Sedalia over the state capitol—a contest which lasted more than twenty years. In 1896, a proposition to remove the capitol to Sedalia was submitted to a vote of the people and defeated.

The dome of the capitol was struck by lightning February 5, 1911, and the building burned. It probably was worth 1 million dollars. Most of the contents of value were saved.

The seat of government was moved into the old supreme court building. The senate secured quarters in the new supreme court building and the house in the schoolroom of St. Peter's church. A bill was passed authorizing the construction of a temporary capitol, and in August, 1911, a constitutional amendment providing an issue of bonds to the extent of 3 1/2 million dollars for the construction and furnishing of a new capitol was adopted by more than a two-thirds vote.

In January, 1912, the state government was moved into the temporary capitol, now in use, which will be occupied until about July 1, 1916, when the state government will move into its new home.

The new capitol probably will cost nearly 3 1/2 million dollars and the furnishings will cost 1/2 a million dollars. The building covers three acres of ground and will have three full stories and a basement and sub-basement. The exterior will be of Burlington limestone, and to the casual observer, it will appear like an immense marble palace. The interior will be finished in marble and granite. It will be fire-proof.

FIGHT ON INCOME TAX LAW

Papers Filed in Suit Attacking Constitutionality of Measure.

Washington, June 28.—Papers were filed here in the first attack in the supreme court on the constitutionality of the federal income tax, which promises to be the most important case before the court next term. Counsel for John P. and Horace E. Dodge of Detroit filed a brief of argument attacking the surtax on income of individuals.

Three main reasons were assigned for claiming the surtax provision of the law is invalid. Stockholders in corporations, it is asserted when compiling their surtaxes are subjected to liability for the gains and profits of the corporations which have not been divided or distributed.

It is charged also that the provision vests in the secretary of the treasury an arbitrary power of determining without a hearing whether any corporation has accumulated a greater undivided surplus than is reasonable for the needs of the business.

A third reason is that the provision permits corporations to accumulate and withhold from surtax taxation such part of their profits as may be reasonably necessary for the needs and purposes of the business and does not accord such business privileges to individuals and partnerships. It is urged that corporations are thus favored by a "most invidious discrimination."

ZIONISTS MEET IN BOSTON

Palestine Possibly Given to the Jews When Peace Is Made.

Boston, June 28.—Several thousand representatives of Zionists organizations of the country attended the opening session of a conference regarded as the most important ever held by American Zionists.

According to leaders of the movement, Zionism in Europe has been seriously affected by the war, and as Jews there are unable to bear their portion of the Zionist work, added responsibility for the success of the movement devolves upon American Zionists. It is contended that at the end of the war there will be keen competition for Palestine and that the logical disposition would be to assign it to the Jews.

L. Brandels, president of the allied conventions, outlined the purpose of the Zionist movement, pointing out that it was not intended to compel Jews to move back to Palestine, but was designed to give them more freedom. This freedom, he said, was expected to give Jews rights now enjoyed by other peoples and the privilege of living at their option in the lands of their fathers or in some other country.

ANIMATED CARTOONS IN MOVING PICTURES

Interesting Description of Tedious Process—Thousands of Drawings Required for One Film—Latest Idea in World of Motion Photography Explained, in Interview, by Originator J. R. Bray

Mention the name "Colonel Heeza Liar" to almost anyone and you'll see his or her face light up and a smile spread all over it. Who doesn't know the funny little Colonel—who hasn't laughed at his antics as he hunted wild beasts in Central Africa, outwitted cannibals on the River of Doubt, cultivated his farm with the aid of some strange assistants, and hunted ghosts in Castle Clare? The Colonel's friends are legion—probably no films made have as large a following young and old alike as these, and speculation has been wide as to how these pictures are made—what gives the drawings those life-like motions, and who is the genius who creates them.

J. R. Bray is the originator and creator of these drawings, and he was the first to put motion into the drawing itself. That there is no royal road to success is again proven by the fact that Mr. Bray started his experiments over seven years ago, and that was when motion pictures were still very ized to fit the situation. This value of the illustration was recognized in everything but motion pictures, and now there too it has found its place. It is well to remember that an artist can draw that which is a physical impossibility for an actor to enact before a camera. The artist's possibilities are unlimited. The opportunity for real humor may be seen when one reflects that the humorous is almost in variably the unusual.

"Very few artists have the ability to make drawings that move. An extraordinary imagination is absolutely essential, as is also a perfect knowledge of the science of motion. Problems come to the artist in this work that never arise in ordinary art. I have employed some very able artists to assist me in this work, and find that very few of them can get the knack. For instance, one of the hardest things in the world to handle in these animated drawings is perspective. To have a figure come from the far horizon straight toward the observer—to have it grow from a dot to the proper size and preserve the 'balance'—makes an almost insurmountable problem. I think I am correct in saying that not one artist in a thousand can put motion into drawings."

Few people would have the patience to do Mr. Bray's work. It takes between four and five thousand drawings to make 1,000 feet or one reel of film in addition to the colossal toll of the art work it takes a week to photograph the drawings one at a time. Great speed united with unvarying accuracy is essential. Every stroke of the pen must count. Mr. Bray works so fast that he is able to keep four trained artists "inking in" the outline drawings which he makes. The necessity for accuracy is evident when it is learned that the drawings are magnified on the screen at least 25 times.

Mr. Bray spent years in study before he attempted to make an animated cartoon film. For months he haunted the Bronx Zoo in order to study the animals there and analyze their motions. He even bought a large farm

Expert Advice to Automobile Owners.

Is it common practice to regrid the cylinders when a motor is worn or is it better to get new pistons and rings?

All depends upon the condition of these parts. Sometimes it is advisable to regrid the cylinders, which is the case when they are worn oval. In this case the fitting of new pistons is a difficult job, and the previous troubles would return again. If the cylinders retain their circularity, then new pistons and rings may be fitted.

Is it a good plan to place graphite in the crank case with the regular oil?

Graphite shows excellent results when used as a lubricant for the motor. Its action is one of a filler, the minute holes in the cylinder being filled in with the graphite, thus reducing friction and wear. Some owners use ordinary kake graphite, while others prefer the defoliated form.

There is a swishing sound issuing from the neighborhood of the right front wheel of my car when it is in motion. It seems to occur once every revolution. What can be causing it?

There are two very likely causes of such a noise. It may be due to the speedometer gears meshing too tightly or the demountable rim has a wedge loose. Jack up the wheel and rotate it slowly, and you can soon determine whether the gears are too close. If this is the case loosen up the arm that carries the driven gear and move the gear only far enough away so that the noise is eliminated. If the trouble is not found in the speedometer gears tighten up the wedges on the rim. One loose wedge will make a noise similar to that you have described, due to the lack of support at this point.

What, in your opinion, is the best way to crank a motor, with the throttle open or nearly closed?

It is preferable to crank the motor with the throttle only opened a small amount, say an inch or an inch and a quarter movement on the quadrant. With some carburetors it is impossible to start the motor with the throttle wide open, while with others it is generally done with difficulty.

I have always been bothered with motor knocking when throttle was opened on a hard pull, necessitating my retarding the spark to the extreme limit, and that, of course, reduced power. I have been told that it was caused by too high compression. Will it help matters to reduce compression by raising the cylinder and placing a plate beneath to make a larger compression space?

The high compression reason which has been assigned to your case is very possibly correct, although it might be that carbon trouble is at the bottom of the difficulty. If you have noticed that the knocking continues even after the motor has been cleaned of carbon it is probably due to the high compression or to a loose connecting rod, wrist pin or crank shaft bearing or part. It is never a good idea to reduce compression until you are sure that it is too high, and it will be better to have this measured by gauge and see what it really is before attempting to cut it down by means of a plate. A compression pressure of seventy pounds is sufficient, and for ordinary purposes you should not have higher than this. If it is below this a reduction of compression will reduce the power correspondingly, as it influences the mean effective pressure in the cylinder.

If a motor is equipped with a high tension magneto, does each cylinder receive alternately one effective spark and one surplus spark?

The ordinary four cylinder high tension magneto only produces sparks when required—that is, at the beginning of the working stroke. Such a magneto produces a spark every half revolution of the armature, and therefore by connecting it to the motor so that it revolves at the same speed just the right number of sparks are generated, since a four cylinder, four cycle motor requires a spark every half revolution. These sparks are distributed to the proper cylinders in turn by means of a rotating brush which makes consecutive contact with the four segments which are connected to the high tension wires running to each of the four cylinders. The distributor runs at half the speed of the armature, and the two are positively connected by gears. The two are so set that the brush is in contact with one of the segments when the breaker points separate and the spark occurs.

material made transparent by any agency whatever in the making of animated drawings.

Mr. Bray was found in his sunny New York studio engaged in conducting Heeza Liar through another series of escapes. Tall, slender and blond, he looks more like a successful business man than an artist. Mr. Bray readily consented to talk about his work.

"The public," he said, "demands drawn illustrations which reveal the personality of the artist. The newspapers and magazines all prove that. It is easily seen that to illustrate fiction, for instance, a photograph rarely can be well used. The artist's drawing, on the other hand, can be ideal-artist, being also a steady contributor to the humorous weeklies, such as "Life," "Puck," and "Judge." He took his ideas to Pathe Freres over three years ago, since he felt that such a house, with its many foreign branches, could give him a larger international circulation than any other. The Pathe officials at once saw the value of his work, and from that day to this he has dealt only with Pathe. Millions of persons have laughed and are laughing at the "Heeza Liar" and "Police Dog" series, and his political cartoons in the Pathe News, the motion picture weekly, have attracted widespread newspaper comment. Mr. Bray has truly originated a new school of art.
